There are almost a quarter million nurse practitioners (NPs) in the United States. More than 60 percent work as family nurse practitioners (FNPs), but less than 10 percent work as adult-gerontology nurse practitioners (AGNPs). As advanced practice registered nurses (APRNs), both types of NPs must matriculate from a rigorous, graduate-level nurse practitioner program prior to practicing; the most fundamental difference between the two specializations is the patient population they serve.
