Answer: Becoming more like Christ is the desire of every believer, and it is encouraging to know that God has the same desire for us. In fact, the Bible says that God “predestined [believers] to be conformed to the likeness of his Son” (Romans 8:29). Making us Christlike is God’s work, and He will see it through to the end (Philippians 1:6).

kpakpandoN: A Christian is not necessarily someone who follows a set of religious rules, but rather, someone who has a cordial relationship with Christ. A Christian behaves like Christ. Christianity is about Christ who lives in you and not all about do’s and don’ts.

Legalistic Or Christ-Like? - Religion - Nigeria

The Christ-like Life. When people really get to know us, do they know us as Christians? The Christian life is the Christ-life. Can others see the Master living in us? I remember the point being made in a different way. “If you were arrested for being a Christian, would there be enough evidence to convict you?” That’s a challenging question.

The Christ-like Life | Churches of God

Be Like Christ. But we Christians, not Jordanians. Specifically, we are Catholics. We are disciples or followers or lovers of Christ. We are not so much dedicated to a lofty ideal as imitators of the Perfect Man. As St. John Paul II liked to say, we must become what we are. This means we must come to be more Christian. We ought to be Christians whose lives are consistent with what we believe.
