Jesus lived on earth long before the dawn of such meticulous data collection. In fact, most of what we know about the life of Jesus comes from the Bible. Scripture only records the events of a few days from His incredible time with us. Christian believers remained satisfied with the Bible's portrayal of Jesus for nearly 1700 years.

The Jesus of History and the Christ of Faith | HOLINESS TODAY

The title for our lecture, "The Jesus of History and the Christ of Faith," was coined over a hundred years ago, in 1892, by Martin Kähler to distinguish between the historical Jesus, or the Jesus of History, and the Christ whom the church proclaimed in its Gospels, or the Christ of Geschichte. 1 Fortunately, English has only one word for History, and so English-speaking scholars cannot on a linguistic basis easily make the distinction between "history" and so-called "meta-history."

The Jesus of History the Christ of Faith

Jesus of history can be described as the quest for historical Jesus, while the Christ of Faith is the Christ of Christian belief either through the Church or historically. Some traditions even went ahead to argue that the Jesus of History could never be found and therefore the Christ of faith is the only way forward for Christians.
