1. Storytelling is interactive. Storytelling involves a two-way interaction between a storyteller and one or more listeners. The responses of the listeners influence the telling of the story. In fact, storytelling emerges from the interaction and cooperative, coordinated efforts of teller and audience.

What Is Storytelling? - National Storytelling Network

Storytelling is probably one of the oldest performance activities known to any civilisation. Much of ordinary human discourse involves the telling of stories. A response to very ordinary conversations results in the recounting of a story. Throughout history stories have been told in many ways: through music and drama, through dance and literature.
