I've got a 2011 Toro Time Cutter SS4235 (I recently got as a gift) just like the OP and I'm having the exact same problem. I could make the same video. I get it started and pull on either or both handles to move it and the engine dies. I've tried changing the safety switches on both of the handles without any results. I replaced the start switch because it had been abused and nothing changed ...
