About the Rodgers
Cambridge 220-II. At the end of 2007 I came into possession of a Rodgers Cambridge
220-II electronic organ
in pretty good condition. This is a church organ, and in fact came from my parents' church when it was retired from service in November 2007. It was in mostly-working condition at the time (it was removed to make way for a new pipe organ), and I restored it to as close to fully operating condition as I could get it in my time available.
