The Army Codex

Have you ever looked at one of your miniatures and said: "Dang, this thing is looking sharp! If only there was some way I could easily note the process that made it look so good..." Well now there is! All jokes aside, this is the journal you've been looking for. Since we all live in the digital age, we've grown accustomed to taking photos of our painstakingly painted minis, posting them online, and waiting for like. Well, though there is definitely a place for that (I do it all the time) I've always been more interested in "tangible" products, things I can hold in my hand or put up on my shelf; and since we're all in the same hobby, I bet that I'm not the only one. That's where The Miniature Codex comes in! This is a product that I've been using for years to catalogue my hobby journey. The 6x9 journal is the perfect size for all of your hobby painting needs! You can take it with you wherever you go, or you can set it on the shelf among your collection for future reference or as a way to show off your past work. Each page has a designated place for a 4x6 photo and plenty of room for notes about: the paints used, process, techniques, and even some lore for custom made chapters. Though this is a product I made with tabletop gaming in mind, it works for all WARGAMING and MINIATURE PAINTING. Once you purchase this journal you will also be able to email us and we'll send you back the digital powerpoint version for free! If you want to place bulk orders don't hesitate to reach out and we will make it happen! This is a great gift for the gamer in your life, for birthdays, christmas, anniversaries and more! I've used this journal for historical wargaming, science fiction wargaming, grimdark wargaming, Native American miniatures, Indian miniatures, European miniatures, WWI miniatures, WWI miniatures, etc...
