Usborne Art Treasury. After many years of homeschooling, seven to be exact, I finally made an effort to include art appreciation in our school day. I decided to use The Usborne Art Treasury as our "spine". The book introduces artists of many genres - from African masks to Vincent van Gogh to Georgia O'Keefe. Each artist is covered on four pages.

Usborne Art Treasury - The Curriculum Choice

I'm giving this book 4 stars because of my objection that this book seems to be marketed by Usborne to all ages (10+). There are pictures in this book that I'm not ready to discuss with my 10 year old. Otherwise, this book has a good discussion of painted art: what it is, the history, and various techniques.

The Usborne Book of Art: Dickens,

Rosie, Chisholm, Jane ...

Both art appreciation and hands-on art projects can be important and exciting elements of teaching art to young elementary age students. While many books concentrate on one or the other, The Usborne Art Treasury does a terrific job of combining picture study and creative art projects inspired by great art. The book, written by Rosie Dickins and designed by Nicola Butler, also utilizes information and advice from art historians. It includes a brief biographical introduction to 22 different artists ...
