If day trading forex and our winning trades average 11 pips while our losing trades average 6 pips, we only need to win about 40% of our trades in order to produce an overall profit. By trading with a profit target, it is possible to assess whether a trade is worth taking. If the profit potential doesn't outweigh the risk, avoid taking the trade. In this way, establishing a profit target actually helps to filter out poor trades.

This book presents supposed statistical analysis of prices hitting, supporting or resisting intraday, depending on the previous day closing price and opening price based on pivot levels. Some of the percentages present apparently good trading opportunites.

Amazon.com: Customer reviews: Detecting High Profit Day ...
Day trading works by capitalizing on short-term price movements in a stock through the active buying and selling of shares. Day traders seek volatility in the market. Without short term price movement (volatility) there is no opportunity. The more a stock moves, the more profit a trader can make or lose in a single trade.

Day Trading Guide For Beginners [2020]
I'm trying to put together a pine script for tradingview and I'm almost done with it, but i'm not sure how I can get it to close the trade at either the end of the day (11:59PM) OR when the current price is equal to the previous day candle high (high[1] + X pips on day candles).

How to close trade at end of day or at X profit above ...
Day trader – Trading an average of 3 – 5 times a day, you can expect to be profitable in most of the quarters. Swing/position trading – Trading an average of 5 – 15 times a month, you can expect to be profitable in most years. The more trades you put on during a shorter period of time, the faster your “edge” will play out. But without an “edge” in the markets, the more trades you put on will lead you to blow up your account faster.
