Two-step inequalities. Two-step inequalities are to one-step inequalities what two-step equations are to one-step equations - the same thing, but a bit more work is needed in order to solve them. Two-step inequalities are very easy to solve and the rules you have to adhere to are the same as for the one-step inequalities - remember that you need to change the sign of inequality when multiplying or dividing the whole inequality with a negative number.

Two step math equations are algebraic problems that require you to make two moves to find the value of the unknown variable. For example, using the equation $3x + 5 = 11$ we will need to perform two steps to find the value of x. The first step would be to get the constant values of the equation by themselves. In this case 5 and 11 are our constants.
