Yamaha dropped the SRX 600 for 2000 and lavished major modifications onto the 700. For starters, the Japanese engineering crew tried a higher output digital 3-D ignition system which delivers a single electrical burst to each spark plug in turn, instead of firing all three plugs at a time. This enables a more complete burn in the combustion chamber which delivers more power.

Go with the silencer concept, as Yamaha is extremely serious about sound reduction in its sleds. You'll notice a Snowmobile Safety Certification Committee label embossed on all Viper exhaust silencers. While the silencer reduces engine noise it is also an integral part of the Viper triple's power-building system.
