For four years, Grace Sullivan wrote to a Marine she never met, and fell in love. But when his deployment ended, so did the letters. Ever since that day, Grace has been coasting, academically and emotionally. The one thing she's decided? No way is Noah Jackson - or any man - ever going to break her...

FYI, there is a sequel novella to this book, Undressed (Woodlands Book 2), in which Grace and Noah's story continues. However, this book can be read as a standalone; it does not end in a cliffhanger. The decision whether or not to read UNDRESSED is entirely up to the reader. I guess if you wanted more of Noah and Grace, it would be nice to read it.

1 Star I don't even know where to start with this one. The blurb seemed promising. A love story that started without the protagonist knowing each other, just with letters to a marine during war, until he stops writing back. And when he returns the fight for a second change. It had everything to be a great book, unfortunately... it wasn't.
