In part (b), it was reported that candidates' performance was poor. Majority of them did not apply the rules of logarithms correctly. Others showed inability to read from the anti-logarithm tables correctly. Candidates were expected to show that since $a = b$, then $\log a = \log b$. i.e. $a = b$ or $a = 2 = b$. Taking the antilog of both sides gave $a = 0.2229$.
