Fog lights are typically in the front bumper, below the headlight cluster and are helpful in poor visibility. If one fog light is burnt out on your Tacoma, we recommend changing both bulbs because the working bulb will be dimmer than the one you replaced and will likely burn out soon anyway. When you change the foglight on your Tacoma, be careful not touch the glass part of the bulb with your fingers which causes the bulb to burn out earlier.

The idea of making a 'fog light' to maximize up light is the opposite of how a fog light is supposed to function. While every other company builds fog lights to maximize output in the fog region and minimize uplight to be more effective in poor weather and minimize glare to oncoming drivers, Bajas approach has been to have low intensity output in the fog region and maximize the up light.
