Huxley writes, in his foreword to Brave New World (1946), that “The theme of Brave New World is not the advancement of science as such; it is the advancement of science as it effects human individuals. The triumphs of physics, chemistry and engineering are tacitly taken for granted.

Brave New World Research Paper #2 | FreebookSummary

Aldous Huxley’s Brave New World represents the most perfect social system with minimum deviation probability. The system itself is based on consumerism which reduces any human activity to consumption of various material goods which leads to full satisfaction of society’s needs. Science is considered to be the fundamental power controlling this system as it has reached significant progress by the beginning of the narration.

Introduction. “Aldous Huxley's tour de force, Brave New World is a darkly satiric vision of a “utopian” future — where humans are genetically bred and pharmaceutically anesthetized to passively serve a ruling order. A powerful work of speculative fiction that has enthralled and terrified readers for generations, it remains remarkably relevant to this day as both a warning to be heeded as we head into tomorrow and as thought-provoking, satisfying entertainment.”.
