Negocios By Junot Diaz Summary Summary "Negocios" is narrated by an adult Yunior as he describes his father's life in the United States. He describes what happened right before Papi left for the States: Mami discovered that he was cheating on her with a woman who lives in Los Millonitos. Mami is told about Papi's affair through a friend of hers who is the woman's neighbor.

Drown "Negocios" Summary and Analysis | GradeSaver

"Negocios" is the final short story in Drown. The narrative covers the same time period (around 1972-77) as "Aguantando," but relates events in Papi's life rather than Mami, Yunior, and Rafa's. The story ends when Yunior is nine—a year already touched upon twice in the collection—as Papi finally returns to the Dominican Republic to get his family and take them to a new life in the United States.

Drown (short story collection) - Wikipedia

Overview. In this collection of short stories, Junot Díaz provides highly-detailed, slice-of-life portraits of various characters who occupy the cultural, economic, and social milieu of Dominican immigrants in America during the 1970s and 1980s, with the exception of the character Ysrael, who is a Dominican adolescent who never comes to America. Through these stories, often told in vignettes or fragmented timelines, Díaz depicts the everyday lives and struggles of Dominican-American ...

"Aurora," Junot Diaz presents a carefully conceived and poignant relationship marred by violence and drug addiction. The couple involved takes part in seduction, beatings and other forms of abuse to harm the other person. It is not, however, what the characters do to each other that makes this story as remarkable as it is; it is what Diaz suggests about why they do what they do to each other.
