The architecture of Istanbul describes a large mixture of structures which reflect the many influences that have made an indelible mark in all districts of the city. The ancient part of the city (the historic peninsula) is still partially surrounded by the Walls of Constantinople, erected in the 5th century by Emperor

Theodosius II to protect the city from invasion.

Still, they all retained a distinct turn-of-the-century art nouveau style. Unlike the occasional visiting architect from Europe who would create a singular extravaganza, Istanbul Greek architects were meeting the needs of the local bourgeois, and in this sense, their work must be examined in greater depth, as it will reveal many social aspects of life in Istanbul around 1900.
