Multichannel Filters For Image Processing

New filters for multichannel image processing are introduced and analysed. The proposed methodology constitutes a unifying and powerful framework for multichannel signal processing. The new filters use fuzzy membership functions based on different distance measures among the image vectors to adapt to local data in the image.

In conclusion, an adaptive multichannel filter based on non-parametric density estimators was introduced. The filter smoothes noise under different scenarios, outperforming other widely used multichannel filters. Moreover, the new filter preserves the chromaticity component, which is very important in visual perception of color images. 4.
